BOVRIL ISN'T DEAR.

in fact, value for value, it is one of the cheapest drinks and one of the most economical foods that can be obtained. A cup of hot Bovril costs less than a drink of whisky, and while giving a more genuine and lasting warmth than the latter, contains, in addition, the nutritive principles of beef worth many times its cost.

Old fashioned beef teas and meat extracts, whether known as such, or disguised under more pretentious modern names contain none of the NUTRITIVE properties of beef. Baron Liebig himself admitted this fact; there is not a doctor to-day disputes it. Used as a nourishment Meat Extract is probably the most expensive article one can buy. Bovril one of the cheapest. THE CHEFOO CALAMITY.

THE TEXT OF THE VERDICT.

An Inquisition taken at Chefoo at the China Inland Mission School before Herbert Francis Brady, His Majesty's Consul acting as Coroner, in accordance with the 53rd section of the China and Japan Order in Council 1865, upon view of the body of Hugh Gray-Owen then and there lying dead upon the oaths of John Ryrie Greaves, Ernest Harry Douglas Derrick, Christopher Frederick Russell, (Jurors), the several persons whose names are hereunder written, good and lawful men of Chefoo aforesaid, who being then, and there duly sworn and charged to enquire on the part of our Lord the King, when, where, how, and by what means the said Hugh Gray-Owen came to his death (which said Inquisition was then and there duly adjourned until the 19th of July at H.M.'s Consulate, Chefoo, and again until the 21st of July, and again, until the 22nd of July, and the said Inquisition being now further held,) the said Jurors do say that the said Hugh Gray-Owen died of cholera at the C. I. Mission School on the 8th day of July, 1902; and judging by the evidence which has been submitted to us, we are strongly of opinion that the deaths of the other twelve boys of the school who died between the 6th and 10th of July were also due to a similar cause.

We are unable to form any positive opinion as to how the disease was contracted, or conveyed into the school, but in view of the fact that all the deaths and all the cases of illness presented similar characteristics, and occurred at the two tables (situated at one side of the dining hall) where tainted chicken pies were known to have been served (with the exception of that of the lad Momen who partook of a second helping supposed to have come from the tainted pies) we are inclined to believe that these pies were the source of contagion.

In Witness whereof as well the said Herbert Francis Brady as the Jurors aforesaid have hereunto subscribed their names the day and year last above written.

(Signed) JOHN RYRIE GREAVES, ERNEST HARRY DOUGLAS, DERRICK, J. R. GRAY, GARDINER CHRISTOPHER, FREDERICK RUSSELL, HERBERT F. BRADY, Coroner and Consul

Further, we, the said Jurors, taking into consideration the great responsibility pertaining to the charge of so many young boys, are of opinion that the direction of THE HOUSE-KEEPING DEPARTMENT LEAVES MUCH TO BE DESIRED; and that a thorough supervision of the kitchen, its utensils and surroundings was lacking—too much, in our judgment, having been left to the care of the native Chinese servants.

We consider further that the medical officer attached to the School should be consulted from time to time as to the suitability of the diet, and that the present ice box is insufficient for the requirements of so large an establishment.

We wish to record our profound sympathy with the parents and relatives of the boys, who lost their lives in this sad calamity as well as with the authorities of the School, who have been placed in so sad and trying a position.

(Signed) E. H. DERRICK, G. C. F. RUSSELL, (Signed) HERBERT F. BRADY, Coroner at H. M. Consulate, Chefoo, 22nd July, 1902.

On July 12th at the Health Laboratory was the undersigned, opened an hermetically closed earthenware jar with seals unbroken, certified by Dis. King and Galowsen of Chefoo, to contain the heart, lungs, stomach, bowels, liver, spleen, p. nores and kidneys of Hugh Owen, of the China Inland Mission School, Chefoo, who died at the said School the 8th day of July, 1902.

As the result of decomposition the tissues were variously altered in colour and consistence and by gas distension, as were the contents of the hollow organs. Apart from these changes the only abnormalities were in the small intestine; kidneys and covering of heart. So far as it is possible to form an opinion in the presence of such decomposition, the changes in the organs named indicate the action of a poison on the small intestine, causing there congestion and excess of secretion. The toxin of cholera is known to do this and produce charges like those met with in the kidney and heart covering. Search was therefore made microscopically in the bowel contents, which contained several organisms, but that of cholera was not seen. This negative result in the presence of so much decomposition does not prove that the cholera organism had not been present, so the further step of is being carried out.

Death from poisoning by arsenic is excluded by the condition of the stomach lining.

The condition of the blood and of the tissues as to dryness, etc., when the body was opened after death, is of some importance, but these and no details as to duration and features of the illness have been furnished, information which, with the post mortem signs, might justify a positive opinion as to the cause of death.

The naked eye signs are compatible with death from cholera.

Whilst it is possible that ptomaine poisoning might produce an illness with symptoms which are not unlike those of cholera, we are not aware that a ptomaine could produce such a combination of conditions in the small intestine,

BACTERIOLOGICAL EXAMINATION.

Shanghai Municipal Health Department. Laboratory Report No. 858. To F. S. A. Bourne, Esq.

Specimen from bowel of Hugh Gray-Owen. The bacteriological examination referred to in the previous reports has established the presence of the bacillus of cholera.

We are of opinion that death was produced by cholera.

MAN OVERBOARD!

SUICIDE FROM THE "BAVERN."

Apparently suffering from some mental aberration, Alfred Kaufmann, a commercial traveller, committed suicide early Saturday morning, the 26th inst., by jumping into the sea from the deck of the German Mail Steamship Bavaria, says the Shanghai Times. Though every available assistance was rendered in the hope of effecting a rescue, the man refused all aid and sank beneath the waves. His body was not recovered.

Mr. Kaufmann was the Asiatic Representative of a prominent hardware firm of Solingen, Germany. He joined the steamer at Singapore accompanied by an Indian servant. His destination was Shanghai.

Nothing unusual was noticed about Kaufmann until Friday when his peculiar actions attracted the attention of a number of the steamer's passengers, though none thought that the man contemplated suicide.

At 1.30 a.m. Saturday morning the steamer was brought to a sudden stop by the cry of man overboard. The person could be plainly seen in the water.

Immediately two life buoys were hurled in the direction of the drowning man by the First Officer and Quartermaster, and a chair by the Purser all of which landed within the man's grasp. Instead of accepting the proffered help the would-be suicide held his hands above his head and sank from sight. In three minutes from the time of the first alarm of "Man Overboard!" a boat was lowered and hovered over the spot where the man was last seen, but the body did not come to the surface again.

On investigation being made as to the identity of the suicide it was found that the man was Kaufmann. His cabin was searched and a note was found addressed to the Captain, in which he stated that his death was premeditated. He kindly requested the Captain to have his Indian servant returned to Singapore.

The circumstance of the suicide was immediately reported to the German Consul on the arrival of the steamer at this port. The baggage and personal effects were taken in charge by the Consul. The suicide left no explanation of his rash deed.

THE RETURN OF SIR JAMES MACKAY.

AN UNOFFICIAL REPORT.

Reports have been circulated to the effect that the British Commercial Commissioner, Sir James Mackay, has concluded the new treaty with Lu and Sheng though it has not been yet executed officially. Having practically finished this laborious task, the British Envoy intends to return to England on the 9th of August. He officially communicated to the Chinese Commissioners that the British Government had accepted all the important articles with the exception of one or two items which need further consideration. The new import tariff will be 12½ per cent, and urged the Chinese Commissioners to apply for permission from the throne to execute the new treaty before the date of his departure (9th August). It is also said that the Chinese Government is very stiff on the subject of unrestricted export of grain from China, but it has been eventually settled in a compromising manner. Chinese officials still retain their power to forbid its transportation whenever the crop fails to meet the demand. The other important article respecting the increase of import duties. The 12th right of exterritoriality. The 13th right of investigation into the Church affairs by the Chinese officials, have been agreed upon by the parties concerned. Shanghai Times.

THE WORD OF HONOUR.

The men who do as they say; the things that prove to be what they were said to be, how cheering it is to come upon them. We all hate to be deceived; especially when the deception is intentional. But all men are not liars, even if David did say so in his haste. If they were society would be impossible. Everybody knows that business is based on credit, on faith. Millions are bought daily on nothing more solid than the pledged promises of men, not written, merely verbal. The Stock Exchanges are often called nests of gamblers, yet nowhere is a promise held in greater honour. Therefore when we say that the tried and effective modern remedy called "Wampole's Preparation" never deceives any who resort to it in hope of benefit and cure, we may expect to be believed. For this assurance is given on what it has done in the past in countless cases, on its record. It is only recommended to accomplish what it was made to accomplish. Its action in Chlorosis, Anemia, La Grippe, General Debility, Throat and Lung Troubles, Blood Impurities, etc., is convincing. It is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extract of Malt and Wild Cherry. Dr. Austin D. Irvine, of Canada, says: "I have used it in cases where cod liver oil was indicated but could not be taken by the patient, and the results following were very gratifying." It is effective from sensitive and nervous stomachs. It cannot deceive or disappoint you, and comes to the rescue of those who have received no benefit from any other treatment. It stands for the medical triumphs of the age. Sold by all chemists here.

OWING to the insufficiency of accommodation in the present building and the increasing demand for admission, it has been found necessary to extend the wings of the main building and to enlarge the Chinese department by an additional storey with two wings. The estimated cost will amount to over $15,000. To cover these expenses we appeal to the liberality of all friends of Education. The establishment has been in existence for the last 25 years and is open to all classes. Much of the clerical work of the city is carried on by its past pupils. As this is the first time we have applied for assistance we expect a generous response. The names of our most liberal Benefactors will be inscribed upon marble tablets, as a lasting testimony of their generosity.

A FAST ATLANTIC SERVICE CONTEMPLATED.
LONDON, July 27th.

It is announced on good authority that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is making arrangements for a fast Atlantic passenger and freight service. This is designed as a counter-move to Mr. Morgan's Trust. It is proposed to inaugurate the service with four large passenger steamers capable of doing 20 knots per hour. These steamers will be modern in the largest sense of the word and equipped magnificently. Ten or twelve fast freight steamers will also be put on the run and will be fitted with every modern appliance. The route will be from Liverpool to Quebec during the summer months and from Liverpool to Halifax during the winter months. It is now a matter of negotiation between the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. and the Imperial Canadian Government as to whether the latter will offer a subsidy sufficient to encourage the project.

The Government Favorably Disposed.

LONDON, July 28th.

News emanates from a reliable source that the Government will favourably consider the matter of a handsome subsidy to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, in connection with the Company's projected Atlantic service. The steamers will be built with special regard to being converted into cruisers if need should arise.

MR. MORGAN MAKES A STATEMENT.
LONDON, July 27th.

Mr. Pierpont Morgan in the course of a public announcement in regard to the Atlantic Shipping Combine makes an emphatic disclaimer as to the hitch which is reported to have occurred in the negotiations. Public opinion however, does not accept Mr. Morgan's statement unreservedly, on the contrary, it is very sceptical.

Fitzsimmons-Jeffries.

IT IS CLAIMED THAT JEFFRIES FOULED FITZSIMMONS.

MANILA, July 28th.

A cable message from San Francisco to private parties here says that the result of the Fitzsimmons-Jeffries pugilistic contest for the championship of the world, which took place in that city on last Saturday night, was everything but satisfactory. It is claimed that Fitzsimmons had the best of the fight throughout, but when in the 31st Round, "Fitz" called the attention of the referee to the fact that he had been fouled, Jeffries openly landed a knock-out blow which gave him the decision. Fitzsimmons's backers stubbornly protest for feinting their wagers.

STRENGTHENING THE FLEET IN THE FAR EAST.

In accordance with the provisions of the Anglo-Japanese Compact, the already powerful British fleet in the Far East is to be strengthened by the addition to it of a couple of cruisers and several torpedo-boat destroyers. This is not to be done immediately, but towards the end of the year. The relations of our Japanese allies with the officers and men of the China fleet, always of the most cordial character, have become more friendly than ever, since the signature of the treaty, and the recent entertainment of Vice-Admiral Sir Cyprian Bridge and his staff by the Mikado was the first instance of foreign Naval officers being thus honoured at the Japanese Court.—P. CANTON NOTES.

(From Our Own Correspondent).

CANTON, August 1st.

THE VICEROY'S COLLEGE.

The Viceroy's College was closed for the summer holidays a few days ago. It will remain closed until the 20th of the 7th month.

The closing was dramatic. The week before the closing the dengue fever invaded the college. In a day or two the college was like a hospital. On the closing day not two score of the 162 students were able to attend classes.

A like proportion of the teachers and servants were sick. One death occurred. The young son of one of the teachers died. The boy had a severe attack of the fever and the parents would not allow him to take foreign medicine.

Dr. Tso, a graduate of Tientsin Medical College, is employed by the government to look after the health of the students and teachers. The medicine in this case was refused and the boy died.

THE VICEROY.

Tao Mu still retains his office. He has received word that his resignation has been accepted, but he has received no authority to hand over the seal to his successor. As I mentioned some days ago he does not return north until October.

Rooms are being prepared for him in the Viceroy's College. Just now there is a rumour that Tao will not be allowed to return home, but that he has been appointed Director of Colleges. His going to the Viceroy's College to live would seem to confirm this rumour. It is well known that Tao Mu has taken a deep interest in Western education ever since he came to Canton.

ROBBERIES.

An unusual number of robberies are reported from the Tung Kun and Fa Un districts. Travel by land or water is not safe. Passage boats are held up nightly.

GIRAULT: WINES, LIQUEURS, BEER, and SPIRITS.

The Diocesan School also commenced their holidays to-day.

St. Joseph's College commences the new term on the 15th inst.

TIENSIN DAY BY DAY.

(From Our Own Correspondent).

TIENSIN, July 23rd.

Although the date for the handing over of the Tientsin City is now known to be August 15th, nothing official has been announced by the Governors, and none of the various Departments have received any official intimation. The presumption is that the opinion of the General's having been set at naught by the Ministers, they will take no interest in the winding up and the rendition will take place in an informal manner. No official statement of the modified conditions has been made, in spite of its being assuredly for everyone's benefit that they should be as publicly known as possible. From an intelligently edited native paper in the French concession, however, called L'Impartial I get the following outline of the main points embodied in what purports to be a despatch which it states was recently sent by the Japanese Minister to the Board of Foreign Affairs in reference to the return of Tientsin City. "In reply to your despatch of the 1st, 6th month (5/7/02) explaining the reasons why Tientsin City should be governed by the Viceroy of Chihli as soon as possible, I beg to say I have had the pleasure of conferring with the Allied Powers, and find their opinions in harmony with my own, and I have received authority from my Court to advocate the abolition of the T.P.G. under the following conditions:—

As has already been stated in the VIII Art. of the Protocol, China is to demolish all Forts at Taku and along the line of communication to Peking, which has been agreed to by the Chinese Plenipotentiaries.

The work of demolition has been started by the Tientsin Provisional Government by order of the Allied Powers, but it is not yet completed, and we Ministers of the Allied Powers request that the work of demolition be continued under the direction of the military forces until completed, in order to fulfil the Art. VIII of the Protocol, the expense for the same being defrayed from the monies now in the hands of the Provisional Government.

In the Art. IX. of the Protocol it is stated that the allies shall station military guards along the line from Taku to Peking. The City of Tientsin is also within the sphere indicated, so after the Provisional Government is withdrawn the allied forces will continue to place guards at the different stations, as they do at present. All military stores, uniforms, etc. for their use shall be passed duty free by the Chinese Government, and the guards shall be at liberty to on occasion hold manoeuvres or drill practice at any place and at any time without of necessity first informing the Chinese officials. But when ammunition is served out to them the Chinese officials will first be notified.

Provision has been also made to prevent Chinese soldiers from coming too near to the foreign guards, and that China shall not allow her troops to be stationed or enter nearer than 20 ft. of Tientsin. Before the signing of the Protocol the foreign Ministers had mentioned in their despatches that the officers of the allied forces should have control for two miles on either side of the railway line, and this holds good in the IX Article of the Protocol. Nevertheless, it has been arranged to allow the Viceroy to have a private guard in the city of not more than 300, and also to allow the Viceroy a battalion of military police to enable him to protect the City and river from robbers, although the river is strictly within the two-mile limit from the line.

China shall not rebuild any forts between Taku and Peking, nor the Tientsin City Walls which were used as forts in 1900 by the Chinese. China must also not lay any mines or torpedoes at the mouth of the Peiho, or at Ching-wan-tao, Shanhaikwan, etc.

The Foreign Ministers will hand over the accounts of the Provisional Government to two able officials, the one to be nominated by the military commanders, and the other by the Viceroy. The whole of the money in hand shall be handed in to the vaults of the Viceroy less the expenses for demolishing the forts.

China shall not inflict any punishment on or do injury to any of the Chinese who have been employed by the T. P. G. All Chinese employed by the military guards along the line of communication between Taku and Peking shall wear badges, and in the event of their doing wrong the military officers have the option of punishing them themselves or of handing them to the Chinese authorities. The military guards have the right to move to summer resorts in the hot season.

All criminal and civil cases decided by the T.P.G. must be duly respected by the Chinese authorities no matter how the case has been settled, and no rehearing will be allowed.

All the documents of the T. P. G. shall be deposited in the hands of the foreign Consuls in Tientsin, and will be open to perusal only by such persons as are connected with the cases.

All taxes and duties which have been paid by the Chinese in Tientsin and suburbs to the T. P. G. will hold good and must not be collected a second time.

I trust that your excellencies will hand the above conditions to your Court for acceptance, and Tientsin City will be handed back four weeks from the date of such acceptance, when I shall be glad to receive the name of the official you nominate to take over charge."

OUR LONDON LETTER.

(From Our Own Correspondent).

LONDON, July 4th.

THE KING.

The King is really making a wonderful recovery,—he was practically out of danger last Sunday, and ever since the daily bulletin has been increasingly cheerful. It is now issued only twice in the twenty-four hours, instead of four times, and the little crowd which last week was to be continually seen outside the Palace gates has dwindled down to infinitesimal size. The optimists have already begun new Coronation plans, and the most astounding statements recur in even the responsible newspapers. So far as I am able to ascertain absolutely nothing is so much as in train, much less in a fair way to be settled. In any case no ceremony will take place before October, and if the King decides to be crowned then, the programme will be very much cut down from what was arranged last month, both on account of His Majesty's health, and also for the sordid but, alas, necessary consideration of the exigencies of trade expense. Such preparations as have been made during the last few months cannot be repeated again so soon. Two other rumours are afloat, which I mention for what they are worth, but without assuming responsibility for the existence of the "Court authority" from which they are said to emanate.

1. The Coronation will by the doctor's advice be postponed till next summer—(June 25th or 26th are mentioned as likely dates).

2. The King will be advised by the Cabinet to omit the ceremony altogether.

Many interesting details of His Majesty's illness have become more or less common property through the indiscretion of a member of the Court entourage in the first instance. Luckily, however, no harm was done by this babbling as it is understood the King, though naturally averse from the discussion of his private concerns, holds that royalty must be content to waive the privilege of lesser folk, and freely inform the nation even on purely personal subjects—thus disarming that crowd of scandal mongers who feed on the smallest appearance of reserve.

The operation lasted 40 minutes, and was rendered slightly more critical than in ordinary cases by reason of the location of the abscess at an unusual distance from the surface.

Although this is the eleventh day since the operation none of the stitches have yet been removed for which rather exceptional arrangement no explanation has been made public though no doubt good cause exists. The drainage tubes, however, been removed as the pain from their presence became more acute than the surgeons believed it to be wise for His Majesty to bear in his weakened condition. Gauze now subserves the purposes of the tubes.

The baronetcy conferred on Sir Frederick Treves, who sat up with the King the first seven nights, was an addition made to the Coronation honour list in a somewhat pathetic manner. When the Prince of Wales was admitted to the sick-room for a few moments the King in a feeble whisper conveyed to him the royal command, which the Prince then carried to the responsible Minister.

The knighthood for Sir F. Burnand

was also the special suggestion of the King, who is said to cherish a very warm regard for England's Fourth Estate. Apropos of the Press one distinctly discreditable incident, which has aroused the severe but dignified reprobation of the dailies, is to be recorded. In the Lady's Realm, a "Peer's daughter," writing in a somewhat previous strain, for which possibly the exigencies of present-day journalism may in a measure offer some excuse, describes the Abbey ceremony with some minuteness, and much graceful diction. This proceeding cannot be commended, but what is to be said of the further article descriptive of the great Royal Opera, wherein the writer adversely criticises both the leading "Command" artists, and the chorus. With an unfavourable opinion, given with fairness, and in good faith no one should quarrel, but to condemn in advance the performance of those who live by their work is surely a gross and scandalous misuse of the power of the pen. It is difficult to see who is more to blame, the lady who wrote, or the editor who permitted to pass, any such verdict before trial.

The Colonial parade was a great success. In the first place the Queen made her earliest public appearance since the King's illness, on Tuesday, a compliment which Imperial Britain fully appreciated. Secondly, the weather though cloudy kept fine, and the men were all as fit as possible. The little Hongkong contingent though naturally inconspicuous among the larger bodies of men from Canada, Australia, and South Africa, was as smart as any, and marched past most creditably in the opinion of the experts. I hear that the dozen or so Chinese soldiers gave rise to questionings among the crowd, and that the final solution of the problem of their presence amounted to the assumption that England had quietly added China to her over-sea dominions!

Apart from the two reviews, we have indulged this week in a somewhat unusual form of military excitement in the "rustication" of about 30 Sandhurst Cadets. It seems that a number of fires believed to be incendiary have occurred at the College since Easter, and as a last resource, the War Office decreed that, unless the delinquents were given up to justice within 48 hours, the whole company, in whose quarters the outbreak invariably occurred, should be "sent down," a punishment which involves the loss of six months' seniority. Those of the incriminated company who conclusively proved ad hoc have been permitted to remain, but the remainder, 30 in number, left Sandhurst yesterday. All the Cadets protest that the incendiary is someone outside the College; presumably, however, the authorities have evidence to the contrary. The matter will be brought up in Parliament.

Col. Glider, of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Families Association has just published a book entitled "For King and Country," setting forth the amounts of voluntary subscriptions to Military Charities during the war. Excluding the Queen's chocolate, and Queen's Alexandra's pipes, also several Colonial gifts, the magnificent total of £5,126,994.16.5 is recorded.
